That Flying Object—Big Guy Saw It

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Haydon Burns saw a flying object on his way to the capital — a UFO.

The governor ordered his airplane pilot to give chase, but the unidentified flying object's lights winked out and it disappeared — upward bound — almost at once after Burns' Conair bore down on it.

So say Burns, his assistant, a Florida Highway Patrol captain and four newspapermen who were flying with the governor to Tallahassee from a re-election campaign session at Orlando.

"I told you," Burns quipped to reporters on board, "that my campaign would be out of this world." Later on the ground he said he preferred that reporter expand on the encounter by moonlight Monday night 6,000 feet over Ocala.

"I much prefer to let the newspaper representatives be quoted," he said Tuesday. "I will confirm that I saw the same unidentified flying object they have alluded to in their writings."

China Army Now a Work Unit, Report

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's three-million-man army has been converted into a huge labor force, a Swedish motion picture cameraman said here after spending six months on the mainland.

"Everywhere you go soldiers are building roads, bridges and factory buildings," Wayland Wieslander told newsmen. "Those who aren't in construction work are laboring in the fields alongside the peasants."

Despite the massive work program, the soldier apparently is not excused from a full program of military training.

"Throughout China," Wieslander said, "the Red army is in constant training. Because the army takes on this tremendous work load, the soldier gets a lot of respect from both the city worker and the peasant."

Wieslander, who first visited China in 1953, said progress there had been very impressive.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Constructing a television series or even a single special program so that it lands on happy neutral ground between the sponsor's demands and the viewers' interests demands delicate balance.

It cannot be too exciting because the commercial interruptions would irritate the viewers. It cannot be too bland because they would turn to another channel.

It must be provocative — but not so controversial that some viewers might stop buying the sponsor's product.

That is a basic reason why the really controversial issues of the day — U.S. policy in Viet Nam, legalized abortion, broad-based divorce laws, auto safety, health hazards and others — are infrequently the subjects of televised dramas. They are more likely to be handled as documentary programs where the pros and cons can be neatly balanced and the conclusions left to the individual viewer.

NBC's long-running series of dramatic specials called "Hall of Fame" and its long-time greeting-card sponsor rarely have sailed into the turbulent seas of controversy. The program has specialized in safe biographical drama — Florence

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Spanking in School Hall?
Dear Helen: We strongly disagree with your answer to "Seventh Grader" (who told about a teacher running out in the hall to watch children being spanked, as if he enjoyed the show). You stated that spankings should be administered, when necessary, in the principal's office, with only one or two witnesses. Though it might sound cruel to paddle in the halls, there are several reasons why it is beneficial. Be assured we only use the paddle as a last resort and another teacher witnesses. To spank in the halls saves time. Our teaching time is for ALL these students, not just those who cause trouble. If we steal 10 or 15 minutes from class to march one of these to the office, we short the rest of the class.

At the same time, if we spank in the hall it serves several purposes. No only the guilty party benefits — fast — but others, too. You'd be surprised at the psychological effect to the entire wing when a resounding smack is heard in the hall. The children are smart. They realize they might be next, unless they shape up.

We love these kids and try to do our best for them. If teaching good citizenship entails a whack in the halls, so be it! — Two Math and Science Teachers

Dear Teachers: If your school board allows this, so be it. But I'm a "principal's office" woman, myself. As for psychological effect: seems to me the whisper of a whack from the "top man" would carry more weight than the sound of a slap from a heckled teacher. Kids have a sense of dignity too, you know. — H.

Her Kingdom For A Snore Stopper
Dear Helen: My husband is a light sleeper — he'll wake up at the slightest noise. So how in tarnation can he sleep through all that racket he makes snoring? Holy buzz-saws! It's enough to wake the dead. So I poke him and he gets furious because I disturb his sleep. He says if I kepe punching him, he'll get separate beds, but that wouldn't help — I'd only have to throw something at him.

I've bought him gadgets to prevent snoring, but they bother him. The only thing that helps temporarily is a kick, and he's gotten so he kicks me back. Surely SOMEBODY has a cure.

Dear Sleepless: In spite of all the gadgets and suggestions, I am afraid the only surefire cure for hte common snore still remains: Wakefulness. Perhaps mates of buzz saws should approach the problem psychologically.

We can nap through a blaring TV program — so why can't we condition ourselves to a little bedroom music? Maybe it is not the noise, but subconscious resentment that keep us awake. Think on THAT for a while. You may even analyze yourself to sleep. — H.

Dear Helen: You quoted somebody who said, "One expresses only the love he does not feel." My husband tells me he loves me at least three times a day and kisses me like he means it. I think he expresses what I am sure he feels, very well. Take it back! — Terry.

P.S. We've been married nine months, if that means anything. Dear Terry: It means Everything. May your husband always be the exception that prove the quote. — H.

Team or Not Scholarship Stands Good

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three universities have found out the hard way that you can't take away a scholarship from a student-athlete just because he doesn't make the football squad.

Hit by National Collegiate Athletic Association penalties were Texas A&M, Chattanooga and Richmond. They join Houston and Southern Methodist on the probation list, although the latter may get off in a couple of months.

Basically, the NCAA holds that once a grant-in-aid is made to a student-athlete it can be terminated during the period of the award only if the recipient renders himself ineligible scholastically or becomes a disciplinary problem.

The NCAA supported Southwest Conference action banning Texas A&M from postseason football activities at least until next Jan. 15. Chattanooga went on probation for one year but without penalty, and Richmond was censured, the lightest penalty for a rule infraction.

The actions by the NCAA Council at its San Francisco meeting were announced Tuesday by Arthur J. Bergstrom, the assistant to the group's executive director.

Trade Helps Green Bay Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League, went to work on the future by making their first major trade of the season.

Looking for quarterbacking depth, Coach Vince Lombardi sent Tom Moore, a proven halfback who had played on three Los Angeles Tuesday for a pair of unknown but promising players and a draft choice.

In return for Moore, Lombardi's original first round draft choice for 1960, the Packers acquired Ron Smith, a jumbo sized quarterback who spent most of last season on the Rams' taxi squad, and Dick Arndt, 6-foot-4, 250-pound Idaho tackle who has a year of eligibility left.

Indians Run Win Streak to 9 Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland's streaking Indians have earned themselves a spot in baseball's record book right alongside the extinct St. Louis Browns. Now if they would just follow suit and go away too, Baltimore would be sitting pretty.

The Indians' ninth straight victory—a 4-0 shutout against Kansas City by Luis Tiant Tuesday night—equalled the American League mark for consecutive victories at the start of the season set by the Browns in 1944. St. Louis won the pennant that year.

Meanwhile, second place Baltimore kept pace with a power display that beat California 7-3. It was the Orioles' ninth victory in 10 starts, a .900 pace that would be good enough for first place most of the time but not in the American League right now.

Dave Johnson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary and Andy Etchebarren provided the muscle for the Orioles with home runs that accounted for six runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York snapped a seven-game losing streak with a three-run ninth inning rally that beat Boston 7-1, and Chicago downed Washington 4-1.

In the National League, New York outlasted Chicago 14-11. Los Angeles downed St. Louis 4-2 and Atlanta bombed San Francisco 11-3.

Tiant's second straight shutout gave the Cuban right-hander a perfect 0.00 earned run average. He blanked Boston in his first start 10 days ago.

Against Kansas City, Tiant allowed just three hits and struck out 12. He got all the runs he needed on homers by Larry Brown and Duke Sims.

The patient Orioles stayed right with the Indians by hammering four home runs. Johnson and Brooks Robinson each had two shots while Blefary and Etchebarren added solo clouts.

Jose Cardenal and Bobby Knoop homered for California. Baltimore's Robinson Rock continued to provide much of the Orioles' offensive epiphany. Brooks, who had a single to go with his homer, raised his average to .415 and has driven in 18 runs, tops in the league. Frank Robinson had two hits and jumped his league-leading average to .471.

The Yankees, who had lost 10 of their first 11 games, took a 4-2 lead into the ninth inning against the Red Sox when Boston rallied for four runs against Whitey Ford and three relievers.

But New York came back, tying it on a walk, three singles a sacrifice and an infield out. Then Joe Pepitone's line single brought Roger Repoz home with the winning run.

Mickey Mantle had three hits and he and Roger Maris drove in their first runs of the season for the Yankees.

Floyd Robinson rapped a two-run homer in the first inning and then Joel Horlen and Eddie Fisher combined on a seven hitter that beat the Senators.

Robinson, who has hit in all 11 games Chicago has played, connected after Tommie Agee leadoff single in the opening inning. He added a double later.

Fisher bailed Horlen out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth inning, retiring the last two Washington hitters.

Grid Safety Equipment Criticized

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the original All-America football players thinks the modern game is rougher and more dangerous because of safety equipment.

"Those head gears the boys wear are like iron-plated armor in the Middle Ages," John Houghton Hubbard, a halfback at Amherst shortly after the turn of the century, told the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame Awards dinner Tuesday night.

"When I played, I didn't wear a headgear at all. We had only a thin layer of cotton over our shoulders and the main equipment was to protect the legs. Today's football players wear 15 pounds of armor and every inch of it is a hazard."

Hubbard, a member of Walter Camp's All-America team who played every minute of his four year varsity career between 1903 and 1906, was one of four old-timers inducted into the Hall of Fame.

The others were Everett Bacon of Wesleyan University, 76, an outstanding quarterback in 1909, 1910 and 1912; Bishop Frank A. Juhan, 77 who played for the University of the South in 1908, 1909, 1910 and John Francis McGovern, an All-America back at the University of Minnesota in 1906-1910.

Celtics Are Forced Into 7th Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was an angry Red Auerbach who faced a return trip to Boston today, after the Los Angeles Lakers closed a 3-1 gap and forced Auerbach's world champion Celtics into a seventh game in the 1966 National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Lakers, inspired by rookie Gail Goodrich, defeated the Celtics, 123-115, Tuesday night in the sixth game of the best-of-seven playoff match.

The deciding game will be played Thursday night in Boston.

Mar fans had counted the Lakers down and out last Friday, when they trailed 3-1 in games. But Los Angeles defeated Boston, 122-117, Sunday in Boston Garden and then returned home to tie the series.

The loss was a bitter disappointment to Auerbach, who retired this season after 21 years as a coach and after seven straight NBA titles. He's still hoping the Celtics give him his eighth NBA trophy.

Laker coach Fred Schaus praised the playing of the Lakers—particularly Goodrich, who at 6-foot-1 is the squad's smallest man.

Lunch Funds Restored by the House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has ignored White House opposition and sent to the Senate a $6.9-billion Agriculture Department appropriation bill that includes an extra $128 million for school lunch and free milk programs.

The roll call vote Tuesday was 366 to 23. The extra money was to keep the lunch and milk programs operating at current levels instead of curbing them as President Johnson requested.

House members wrote into the bill a provision that would cut off surplus American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam. The amendment was offered by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill. Despite opposition by the Democratic leadership, it was approved by a 290-98 vote.

The amendment would ban sales, gifts or bartering of American food to any nation that sells goods to North Viet Nam or allows its ships or planes to transport such goods for other nations.

An Agriculture Department spokesman said departmental regulations now in effect restrict shipment of American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam.

The money bill's total is $500 million more than was appropriated for the Agriculture Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, but $146 million less than the President requested for the year starting July 1. That cut was more than offset by the transfer to farm programs of customs collections that normally would have reverted to the Treasury.

The split income provisions allow a married couple a lower tax rate. Previously, this could be used only in figuring taxes at the end of the year. Under the new system, taxes can be withheld at this lower rate.

Mrs. Gandhi Gets Into Bomb Probe

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi intervened in an angry debate in Parliament today over three recent bombings of passenger trains in Assam and promised "sternest measures" against any who are found guilty of the "dastardly acts."

The bombings of three trains in the past two months in remote areas of eastern Assam has killed 133 persons.

The government announced it will inspect all the luggage of passengers traveling in "vulnerable areas" of the Northeast Frontier Railways Lines.

The bombings, the most recent of which killed 40 passengers Saturday night, resulted in 13 separate motions for adjournment in Parliament. An adjournment motion is a form of censuring the government.

A vote defeated the motions but the angry feelings apparently prompted Mrs. Gandhi to come to the floor and speak in behalf of the government.

Speedup for Supplies to Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — About 3,000 tons of spare parts and other vital military cargo has been flown to South Viet Nam so far under the Pentagon's "Red Ball Express" system for meeting urgent needs with maximum speed.

Military transportation officials, disclosing this today, said the system has proved to be a "godsend" since it was put into effect late last year on orders from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Little public attention has been given to the system, which draws its name from the fabled emergency supply shuttle used as U.S. armies raced across France in World War II.

Then, the Red Ball—FG Express was a stream of trucks which raced from supply ports to the advancing columns.

The Viet Nam version of the Red Ball Express is an airlift.

McNamara ordered the system into being late last November when he was in Viet Nam and the supply bottleneck was at its worst. The first plane carrying "Red Ball" cargo arrived in Viet Nam Dec. 8.

Under the system, space for priority cargo is set aside on all transport flights leaving Travis Air Force Base in California for Viet Nam.

This space is at the specific disposal of Gen. Lilliam C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, who messages his urgent requests.

Officials estimated that between 10 and 15 per cent of all of the cargo which has been flown to Viet Nam from the West Coast has been of the Red Ball variety.

It is estimated that requests for aircraft, trucks, tanks or other equipment parts can be filled in as little as 72 hours. Average delivery time for the expedited cargo is about five days and the maximum about 11.

As the receiving end, at the Tan Son Nhut airfield near Saigon, military authorities are alerted in advance to expect the cargo and to prepare for swift unloading and distribution.

For identification purposes, the urgent cargo is marked with a red ball device.

MEDICARE PROBLEM—Mrs. Mildred Overfelt of San Jose, Calif., has her difficulties with Medicare. She signed up for the program after repeated urging, but now can't convince the government she's as old as she says she is—94. It's a matter of principle, not need. The wealthy woman has donated to the public land worth some half-million dollars for parks and hospitals.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harold Prince paced the floor of his Beverly Hills Hotel bungalow and spouted ideas, as a hard-driving, highly successful Broadway producer should.

Prince was here to launch the road company of his "Fiddler on the Roof," which began a sold-out seven weeks at the Music Center after a week in San Diego.

We played in San Diego to audiences of gentiles, and they loved it," he remarked. The musical concerns village life of Russian Jews. "Too bad we can only play seven weeks here. It could go for seven months."

"The Shuberts swear that 'Fiddler' can go at least seven years in New York. Imagine! The show has all the aspects of a classic, and that's something new for me. Even with 'West Side Story' we didn't sell out for the first few weeks, and there was a question of whether it would go at all."

"They're after me now to put together another 'Fiddler' company to take care of the cities that this one can't make. I'm resisting. It's not an easy show to put together. But I'll probably give in."

"They said it was Zero Mostel's show and anybody would be crazy to follow him. But Luther Adler did, and he succeeded. Now Herschel Bernardi is playing it in New York, and he's fine. It's not any one star's show. It's a classic."

Prince, who produced "Damn Yankees," "Pajama Game" and "Fiorello" among others, retains his boyish enthusiasm for the theater. That seems to be what it takes, since you can't succeed in the Broadway rat-race without really trying.

The trade knows that Prince tried hard with "It's a Bird... It's a Plane... It's Superman," which opened recently to what is generally called mixed reviews. Despite the yawns of some critics, Prince says the show is a solid hit.

Other Prince Ideas:
A musical called "Cabaret" for next season, based on Christopher Isherwood's "I Am a Camera" stories of 1930 Berlin. A movie, "The Cook," all about eating, which Prince himself would direct.

Old Medicines May Be Ineffective or Dangerous

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Spring cleaning is a time-honored custom. All too often the American housewife cleans everything from attic to cellar except the family medicine cabinet. Sure, that prescription purchased two years ago when the baby had croup cost you $4.75 and, sure, it would seem wasteful to throw out the last 30 cents worth. But would it be really wasteful? When in doubt apply the following rules:

- If a medicine has changed color or if dregs have formed on the bottom of a bottle not labeled "Shake before using," discard it.
- If your aspirin tablets have a sharply acid odor, dump them.
- If your hydrogen peroxide doesn't fizz when applied to a wound, it has outlived its usefulness.
- If the oil has separated from your ointments or they have become discolored, toss them out.
- No antibiotic is much good after 18 months on your shelf.
- Evaporation will increase the strength of your tincture of iodine and cause skin burns.
- Vitamin capsules will deteriorate if not protected from moisture.

Most oily preparations will become rancid in time. Old adhesive tape dries out and will not stick. Discard any prescription, the label of which has come off or become so soaked that it is illegible.

Shake all liquids before using. The active ingredients may have settled to the bottom and later doses may be too great. Keep caps tightly screwed on all bottles. In general, capsules, coated tablets and ointments are less subject to deterioration than liquids.

It is good economy when buying drugs to buy small quantities oftener to insure freshness. And finally, when discarding old medicines, be sure to flush them down the toilet rather than leave them where some child may get at them.

Q—My wife's medical report stated she had "URI, intertrigo and pruritus vulvae." What is that in layman's language?

A—URI stands for upper respiratory infection (a cold, sinusitis, bronchitis, laryngitis or sore throat). Intertrigo is a skin eruption where two skin surfaces rub together as in chafing. Pruritus vulvae is a chronic itching in the female genital region.

Q—What is "inflammation of the C7 nerve"? Can it be cured?

A—C7 is the seventh cervical nerve, a nerve that emerges from between the vertebrae at the lower end of the neck. The treatment of an inflammation of this nerve would be directed at removing the cause. There are many possible causes.

Kiwanis Minstrel a Monument to Public Service

It's the obligation of a newspaperman to go where the action is — and Tuesday night found me driving to Blevins under a threatening sky to photograph the opening of the Kiwanis Club Minstrels' three-city benefit tour.

It's a brisk and amusing show and the crowd was unexpectedly good in the immediate wake of a major storm. I know Nashville and Hope will do as well for the Kiwanians and the public work they initiate and support financially.

This is the 23rd Minstrel, and every time I make that drive to Blevins I reflect on the amazing monument that some energetic clubmen have erected in the name of unselfishness. Not the least to amaze you is the fact that they have kept at it — for 23 years.

It takes long planning and a lot of physical work just to put a show together; but to run it for 23 years, including the assembly of the entire company for performances in other towns — this is a major job in personnel.

Not only have the Kiwanians done it well but the same 23 years have rung up this financial record: A total of $30,000 spent by the club on boys' and girls' projects, activities, and recreational programs in Hope.

Some of the benefits now go to neighbor towns, the school organizations getting all the receipts produced in the respective towns of Blevins and Nashville.

One of the club's long-time programs is its sponsorship of the Hope High School Key Club, organized in 1947. This school service organization enrolls 30 young men each year, and through the years it has benefited 500 high school students. Kiwanis annually grants a $500 college scholarship to a ranking Key Clubber.

Collateral projects which the Minstrel Show helps finance are such things as the athletic K Park in Fair Park, the Rifle Club, and the Golden Age Club, the last-named having been started in 1959.

All this from a home talent show someone dreamed up 23 years ago — but they kept at it everlastingly... which is the hallmark that's stamped on every story of success.

Repair Job on Streets Is Begun

During the next few weeks the Street Department will be engaged in research program in hopes of finding a better method of patching "chug-holes" in Hope streets.

The materials to be used in this program are emulsified asphalt and crushed stone. This is a "mixed-in-place" type of repair and necessitates the use of a cone or barricade to cover the patched area for several hours after the repair is made in order for the newly placed material to cure.

The street department announced it regrets the inconvenience to motorists in having to detour around these obstructions but feels the longer life of the repair justifies the temporary inconvenience.

During the next several types of emulsified asphalt and various sizes of crushed stone will be used. This type of patch has been very successful in several cities around the State. This type of repair has been compared to a vulcanized inner tube patch in that the patch is bonded to and actually becomes a part of the street surface.

Willisville Play Scheduled Friday

The Willisville Senior Class of Willisville High school, will present a three-act comedy titled "Melvina's Courtship", Friday, April 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the School Auditorium. Admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Characters are: Bill Walker-Tommy Pipkin
Bud Weston — Ray Bailey
Jay Crest — Richard Rodgers

Squire Belcher — David Bailey

Melvina Perkins — Paula Goodwin

Mrs. Weston — Kay Bailey

Minnie Darling — Vickie Camp

Jane McCracken — Lois Bailey

Teacher and Her Children on Round-the-World Tour Coming Home After Year

By EUGENE LEVIN

TOKYO (AP) — The round-the-world Odyssey of a 43-year-old American woman and her two young children is about to end one year, 60 countries and dozens of plane, train and boat rides after it started.

Jacquelyn Carr, a red-haired teacher from San Mateo, Calif., leaves Tokyo Saturday for Hawaii with her daughter Linda, 10, and her son Michael, 8.

By the end of May they will be back home.

They set out from San Mateo last June 1 after Mrs. Carr obtained a year's leave of absence from her teaching assignment and sold her house, car and furniture.

Why did Mrs. Carr, a divorcee, decide to make the long difficult trip with two children? "Curiosity, excitement, novelty, the need to defy fear, the need to take a look at the world and to see what's going on, the thrill of never knowing what's going to happen next, the need to prove it can be done," she said.

Mrs. Carr teaches English and American literature at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo and at San Mateo Junior College. She had a sabbatical leave due and was allowed half pay after she presented a travel program that included visits to schools and educational institutions.

In West Germany they picked up a small truck fitted with living quarters.

Travel through Scandinavia, followed. Then Linda went to stay with a Swedish friend, Michael enrolled in a boys' camp, and Mrs. Carr journeyed into the Soviet Union with a Finnish tour group.

When the Soviet tour was over Mrs. Carr picked up the children and headed south, via Berlin.

She entered the youngsters in the American school in Barcelona as the summer ended. They boarded with Spanish families who wanted their children to learn English. While Michael and Linda were in school, Mrs. Carr toured the Mediterranean countries.

On Thanksgiving she and the children left Spain. Stopovers followed in several European and Asian cities.

In Tokyo Mrs. Carr enrolled the children in an American boarding school and then made trips to Seoul, South Korea and Saigon, South Viet Nam.

Was it all worth it?

"These experiences give me much to take back to my students when I return," Mrs. Carr replied, her blue eyes twinkling. "Many people speak wistfully of seeing the wonders of the world, but few ever pick themselves up and go. This has been a marvelous, memorable year for both me and my children."

Land Sought for U.S. 30 in County

In the near future the Arkansas State Highway Department will begin acquisition of right-of way for constructing of Highway 30 from the Guernsey Road to Highway 4, a distance of 4.7 miles.

According to Henry Gray, Chief, Right of Way & Legal Divisions, the Highway Department will offer persons or businesses who have buildings on the property to be purchased for highway construction, the benefit of their relocation advisory assistance. Listings of real estate agents having available rental or saleable property and house movers will be maintained for the consideration and use of those who must necessarily relocate. The Highway will contact each affected owner.

If needed, relocation advisory assistance will be given by this representative so that displaced persons will be accommodated as little as possible.

Appraisals of properties needed for this construction project are in progress and are almost complete. The State plans to advertise for construction bids as soon as the property purchases can be completed.

News Briefs

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Peace Corps volunteers working at $75 a month overseas put the rest of the nation to shame, says the president of the University of Notre Dame, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh.

In a year alone their youthful idealism and commitment, redeem us from our negligent unconcern and inhumanity," he said in a talk here.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall says the war in Viet Nam has earned the first "hold-the-line" budget in his department since he took over six years ago.

"It has caused problems," he said, "but it's only temporary."

Kiwanians' 23rd Annual Show Debuts at Blevins; to Play in Hope Friday

The 1966 edition of the Hope Kiwanis Club's Minstrels — its 23rd annual show — made its initial run before a good crowd in Blevins High School gymnasium Tuesday night.

On Thursday night at 8 o'clock the song-and-dance men will invade Nashville for the first time; and the final performance will be in Hope city hall at 8 Friday night. The entire Minstrel idea is to raise funds for worthy public purposes, and proceeds in the host towns are donated to the respective communities.

The Blevins receipts went to the Blevins High School Senior Class Fund — and the proceeds in Nashville will be given to the Nashville Parent-Teacher Association.

Hanoi Risks Its Airfields in Mig Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Viet Nam may be risking its key military air fields in the Hanoi-Haliphong area by sending its MIG jets to duel with U.S. raiders.

So far the United States has refrained from hitting three air bases which are home to about 75 North Vietnamese MIG jet fighters and IL28 bombers.

The U.S. Air Force has wanted to strike at these bases and the planes on them.

But decision-making officials have been reluctant to approve any such operation until and unless the Communist jets become troublesome.

A rash of dogfights since late last week suggest that point may be approaching, although U.S. officials are not yet certain whether the pattern will continue. They are watching to see if the Communist jets come up again.

High military authorities have said they are confident that the MIG fields can be taken out by U.S. bombers over a short period of assault.

This could be a job for B52 bombers which so far have not been committed in North Viet Nam except for a single massive raid aimed at blocking an important pass.

The jet fields fall clearly in the realm of military targets. Officials are convinced there was nothing accidental about the MIG sorties in the vicinity of U.S. raiding planes over the past several days.

But there is only speculation as to why the North Vietnamese would choose to risk their few warplanes, especially MIG21s.

North Viet Nam has only 10 to 15 MIG21s, fastest and best in its air force. One was shot down Tuesday by a U.S. Air Force F4-C Phantom which killed the MIG with a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile.

Air Force officers said that, as good as the MIG21 is acknowledged to be, it could be overwhelmed if the United States chose to go after the MIGs with large numbers of high performance American jets.

Hundreds of Air Force and Navy jets are available in the Viet Nam theater. Most of the North Vietnamese MIGs are older models which, it is believed, would have difficulty standing up to the best American planes.

One officer suggested the MIG forays occurred because the North Vietnamese were stung by a recent series of air attacks which came close to Hanoi and Hainhong, and by the mounting intensity of U. S. Air operations in the north.

Sources familiar with the planning said that the bombing operations around Hanoi and Hainhong did not represent any special effort to throw a noose around these vital cities.

FHA Banquet on Tuesday Draws 35

Mrs. James Lackhart was the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Hope Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, last Tuesday. Approximately 35 future homemakers, teachers, and guests met in the Banquet Room of the Town and Country for their last meeting of this year.

Nancy Langston, president, called the meeting to order and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Lackhart spoke to the group on the subject of "Individuality Builds Tomorrow," and told of some of the opportunities in the field of homemaking open to the Future Homemaker of America.

Afterward the 1967 F. H. A. officers — president, Linda Huckabee; secretary, Rachael Batson; were installed. Pat Allen was presented with her Junior and Chapter Degrees earned during her second year in home making. After a short talk by Mrs. S. Hamilton Hanagan, adviser, the meeting was adjourned. Also present at the meeting were Mrs. Arch Wylie and Mrs. J. D. Allen, chapter mothers; Miss Ann Tope and Miss Carol Zahring, practice teachers from Henderson State Teachers College, and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Jones.

World News

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos won a narrow vote of confidence early today, defeating 151-147 a move in Parliament to censure his government's handling of the Cyprus issue.

LONDON (AP) — Singapore has agreed to let Britain keep the big defense base on the Southeast Asian island provided it is not used for aggression by Britain or the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

A Singapore official said Prime Ministers Harold Wilson and Lee Kuan Yew approved a general understanding under which Britain will operate the big base "until the 1970s."

Fate of Rail Merger Is Due Today

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission may redraw the nation's railroad map today with long-awaited decisions on two of the biggest merger proposals in business annals.

At the stroke of noon EDT, the ICC was to announce: —Whether the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads may merge into a $5.3-billion corporation spanning nearly 20,000 railroad miles east of the Mississippi.

—Whether five Western railroads — chiefly the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy — may combine to form the nation's longest railroad, a 25,000-mile giant extending from Chicago to the Pacific.

—Whether the New Haven Railroad may drop its passenger service in the New England-New York City area, or whether a merged Penn-Central system should take New Haven's passengers under its wing.

The Penn-Central case has been before the commission since March 9, 1962; the Great Northern case since Feb. 17, 1961. Twelve merger cases are pending before the commission, including the recently proposed merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western systems.

Approval of the mergers by the commission on the same day would represent a high-water mark in a relentless railroad merger trend of the past decade.

Until today, the commission had approved 26 of 48 unification proposals since 1955, denying but four. Others were withdrawn or deferred by the railroads involved, leaving only the 12 pending.

It has been 13 months since ICC examiners Jerome K. Lyle and Henry C. Darmstadter recommended approval of the Penn-Central merger to the full commission. Twenty months have elapsed since examiner Robert H. Murphy endorsed the Northern lines case and passed it on to the commission.

While other big merger cases remain before the ICC — such as the C&O-N&W proposal, or the fight between the Chicago & North Western and the Union Pacific for the Rock Island — few have generated the intense business world excitement of the Penn-Central proposal.

Billed as the biggest corporate merger in U.S. business history, the system was envisioned as the third leg in an Eastern railroad "triangle" composed of the C&O and the N&W systems — themselves the products of mergers of smaller roads.

Regarding the Penn-Central giant as too big to compete against on their own, the C&O and N&W have decided to break up the triangle and join forces, if the ICC approves.

In prescribing merger as the best cure for the financial ailments of the nation's railroads, the ICC has said:

"The railroads throughout the nation today are confronted with both the intensification of external competition from other modes of transport and increased operational costs within the railroad industry itself."

Mergers, the commission said, hold the promise of "the fuller utilization of the merging railroads' potential for efficient and economic service."

Just 50 years ago, the ICC counted 1,243 railroads operating in the United States. Today, fewer than 400 remain.
